

THE CAPABLES

DIFFERENT IS SUPER

Rae is like many five year olds with one BIG exception: she has a super-secret superpower. Unlike her limb difference, which is visible for all to see, her superpower is something she has never shown anyone before. But it's her first day of school and her classmates are in need. Will she keep her power to herself...or use it to help her new friends?

THE CAPABLES are a group of super-capable kid superheroes all of whom have a super capability or "cape." Each Capables' superpower is activated through empowerment.

Created by television producer Danny Jordan—the dad of a child with an upper limb difference—THE CAPABLES is an award-winning, entertaining, educational, and engaging children's book series, with a focus on inclusion of disability.

AS SEEN ON:

THE CAPABLES assembly features an empowering and educational message from author, Danny Jordan, along with a reading of his award-winning debut book, "Rae's First Day."

The assembly is catered to each of the age groups participating, ensuring that the experience is impactful for all in attendance.

Here's what schools and educational institutes are saying:

What an incredible story of self-empowerment and inclusion - thank you for sharing such a powerful lesson and inspiring our students to use their superpowers to help others!

Many thanks to Danny Jordan for teaming up with Discovery Cube LA to provide a very special and memorable experience for our visitors! Rae's First Day is a fun, educational, and inspiring story for kids and adults alike.

-Discovery Cube, LA

Inviting Danny and The Capables to our school was one of the most influential decisions we could make. Not only was the story relevant to so many of our students, but the delivery was nothing short of incredible. The kids and staff alike were drawn into every moment. Teachers and staff were moved to tears at Danny's ability to create an inclusive space for all children.
